

Gray Eagle Golf Camps

2015

Titleist Performance Institute

TPI Junior Golf Camps will develop athletes first, create competitive golfers second and produce a love for the game of golf along the way.

Long Term Athlete Development and Athletes First Rule

The LTAD describes the lifelong athletic performance model that helps us develop golfers from early childhood to retirement and focuses on having kids perform age-appropriate skill acquisition drills to maximize athletic performance. LTAD gets progressively more complicated and more specialized as the athlete develops and reaches the next level of development. The “Athletes First Rule” refers to the philosophy that children should progress from basic fundamental movement skills to fundamental sport skills in that order. This is the natural progression from simple functional movements to more complex activities. Skipping over the basic movement skills and jumping into sport skills too early can be disastrous for the child. What does this mean for your child and Junior Golf? It means that you will observe your child completing many activities like kicking a soccer ball, hitting a tee ball that seem to have no relation to golf, but in actuality teach them the fundamental movement patterns to help them become the best golfer they can be.

The TPI Junior Camps include Fitness/Nutrition, Golf & Physical Assessments, Sportsmanship, History of the Game, and Rules & Etiquette.

To sign up for any programs please visit Gray Eagle Golf Club or call us at 317-845-2900. We look forward to working with your Junior Golfer!
